

LABORING MEN ARE FOR MANNING

Leaders of the Federation of Labor Are Endorsing His Candidacy

Sumter, Sept. 1.—Since the publication in the Charleston Review of Mr. Manning's stand with regard to organized labor, many letters have come from labor union men in various parts of the state, congratulating Mr. Manning on his position and offering support.

The following letter was received from John B. McCravy, formerly of Laurens county, now a resident of Columbia:

"Hon. F. I. Manning, Sumter, S. C. Dear Sir: I am writing you to say that I am supporting you for our next governor and I am doing all in my power to accelerate your claim to the office and to the mean while, I am trying in a kindly manner to discourage among my people the claim of your opponent. Yours sincerely, John B. McCravy, District Organizer A. F. of Labor."

This letter was written on the stationery of the Barbers' Union, Local No. 223, of Columbia, of which Union Mr. McCravy is an officer. McCravy was a big factor in electing Blaine when he ran against Featherstone.

The following letter has been received from Mr. George Naley, the secretary of the Columbia Building Trades Council, and secretary of local union No. 227:

"Mr. Richard I. Manning, Sumter, S. C. Dear Sir: I received several copies of the Charleston Labor Review, and on the first page of the paper was a copy of the statement from you to Chas. L. Wilson of the position you take toward organized labor, defining plainly several important planks that organized labor has fought for in the last dozen years. What organized labor in this state wants to know is the statement as quoted in the paper above mentioned, correct as to your attitude toward organized labor? I might add that we did not support you in the first race for governor, nor do we support Mr. Richards, but we will support any man who will be fair and impartial to organized labor and their friends. We have no use for any man who is always playing for what he thinks the winning side. Trusting you will be able to favor us with an early reply, I beg to remain, very respectfully, Geo. Naley, Secretary of Columbia Building Trades Council, Secretary of Local Union, No. 227."

The following is the reply to that portion of Mr. Naley's letter with regard to organized labor:

"The statement in the Charleston Review was correct with regard to Mr. Manning's position as to organized labor. There was published a letter from Mr. Manning, personally giving his position on matters affecting the labor people. In a few days we will send you a batch of circulars containing Mr. Manning's letter and the statement from Mr. C. L. Wilson in the Charleston Review."

IRA K. ASHLEY DIED WEDNESDAY

End Child At Home in Palzer and Independent Took Place At Shiloh Church

People in Anderson were shocked Wednesday night when news reached the city that Frank Ashley was dead. Mr. Ashley was well known in this city and had a number of relatives in and about Anderson.

Mr. Ashley had been in his usual good health until Tuesday when he was seized with an attack of acute inflammation of the end organ Wednesday morning about 6 o'clock at his home on Goodrich street in Palzer.

The deceased was 28 years of age and is survived by a wife and several children.

The interment took place yesterday at Shiloh Methodist church, of which he was a member, and a number of relatives of the deceased were in attendance. He had been a faithful member of the church.

Anderson people also attended the funeral.

ANDERSON PRODUCTS IN EASTERN CITIES

EXHIBIT BEING SEEN AT THE FAIRS

IN RAILROAD CAR

Displayed Exhibit From This A. C. L. and C. & W. C. Have City in Attractive Style

The agricultural department of the Anderson chamber of commerce yesterday received a letter from G. A. Cardwell, agricultural and industrial agent for the Charleston and Western Carolina railways and the Atlantic Coast Line railway, in which the representatives of the railroads say that the Anderson exhibit of farm products, grains, fruits, etc., sent from this city to Wilmington, N. C. to go into the special exhibit car of his railroad, is exciting much interest at the county fairs where it is being shown.

Mr. Cardwell thanked the people of Anderson for sending such a splendid exhibit and says that he gave it the very best possible position in the car. According to Mr. Cardwell this exhibit will visit not less than ten county fairs and state fairs in Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey and he says that the car is making a hit at all the places visited. He writes that great interest is being evinced on the part of the Eastern people over the progress being made by the cities in the two Carolinas and believes that this section will reap a rich benefit as a result of having sent this exhibit to the North.

It has been hoped that Mr. Cardwell might come to this city to deliver an address during the stop exhibit is held here during the last of the month, but he says that it is impossible because he is traveling with the exhibit car and will remain in the north for several weeks to come. He regrets that he cannot come to Anderson just now but will be here in the fall, at which time he hopes to get in closer touch with the agricultural and industrial activities of this section.

Mr. Cardwell succeeded E. N. Clark who retired from the railroad service a few months ago.

MANNING HERE FOR THE FINISH

Will Put In Two Days Visiting the People of Anderson County

Hon. Richard I. Manning, former senator from Sumter county, and now candidate for governor, arrived in the city last night, and today and Saturday will make a flying tour over the county. Mr. Manning was a state legislator and went to his room at the hotel and went to his room at the hotel and went to his room at the hotel.

He stated that his information is that he will sweep the state, that he will carry nearly every county. Some of his friends inform that he will even carry the home county of his opponent, Mr. Manning had no criticism of his opponent, the personal feeling between them being friendly.

Mr. Manning's campaign upon my own merits," said Mr. Manning. "I have just concluded two strenuous days," said Mr. Manning. He added that he had traveled more than 400 miles in Spartanburg county. Tuesday he made seven speeches in Greenville county, concluding with a big meeting in the atrium last night.

Mr. Manning is delighted with the reception given him everywhere, and he is optimistic over the outcome, provided the people come out and vote. This is the only thing about which he has any concern.

Mr. Manning will return to the city Saturday afternoon and will spend the night in Greenville. Campaigning he had done he says and wishes to see election come early. He says that over it has been a great pleasure to meet the people and he wishes to see much of them when he becomes governor.

Former Citizen DIED IN EASLEY

B. F. Mullins Died Tuesday Afternoon at Home in Adjoining County after Long Illness

Word reached Anderson yesterday of the death of B. F. Mullins which occurred Tuesday in Taylor county. Mr. Mullins made his home in this county and is well remembered here. He has a large number of friends in various sections of the county. He had been ill for some time and it was known that his condition was serious but none of his friends had expected to hear the sad news.

Mr. Mullins was about 50 years of age. He resided at Slatersville until he became a young man or about twenty-five years of age. He then moved to Louisiana where he lived until about nine months ago when he took up his residence at Easley. Since moving there he has been confined to the hospital several times and his condition has been steadily growing worse.

Though having lived at Easley only a few months, Mr. Mullins has made many friends who deeply sympathize with the bereaved family. He was a well-known, successful citizen. He took a broad view of all things and was liberal in his views on all of the leading general services well held at the home Wednesday morning. At that time the funeral was held at the home of Mrs. Mullins.

English Infantry on the March

When Germany declared war on Russia there was the greatest activity in the English army. It is plain that with a general war on the continent it would be impossible for England to keep out of it. It was figured that the English infantry would give a good account of itself.

Stackhouse Condemns Action of the Governor

Injecting Factional Politics Into a Matter of Such Grave Import to the People of the State.

Columbia, Sept. 3.—The following statement was given to the press tonight by Dr. Wade Stackhouse, president of the cotton congress:

To the Farmers of South Carolina: My attention has just been called to the statement of Governor Blease that if the white democrats of the State will cast their votes for Major Richards on Tuesday he will feel justified in concluding that they wish an extra session of the general assembly called for the purpose of carrying out by legislation the resolutions offered by Major Richards in a conference held in the governor's office on September 2nd.

The most important and the major part of these resolutions was in accordance with certain resolutions adopted the night before a meeting of the South Carolina division of the Southern Cotton Congress at the Jefferson hotel, which meeting was attended by representatives of 31 counties in the State, and the great majority of them elected at the organization of the county divisions of the South Carolina branch of the southern cotton congress. A number of other gentlemen interested in the welfare of the farmers were present, including Mr. H. D. Smith.

The particular matter referring to the matter of legislative action was as follows:

"The president of this convention and the executive committee thereof are hereby appointed as a committee of this body to memorialize the governors of the cotton producing states, calling upon them to have their respective legislatures enact such laws as they could, constitutionally, to validate and make effective plans for the reduction of the cotton acreage next year, or by any other means to bring about this result."

It is absolutely foolish to call the members of South Carolina together for the purpose of enacting laws of this nature without the cooperation of all the cotton producing states. There would be no sense in calling upon and forcing the farmers of South Carolina to reduce the cotton acreage if the other states should continue to produce at the old rate.

This matter was thoroughly discussed before the resolution was passed and the original resolution, which was amended to read as above, made no mention of other states or governors, but only applies to the state of South Carolina, as stated, after discussion and the amendments indicated above were adopted unanimously. The amendments indicated were seriously and carefully discussed in length and the purpose of the adoption of the amended resolutions was to serve the farmers of South Carolina, and to subvert any political party motives.

I condemn the effort of the governor or any man to inject politics into a matter of such serious import to the people of South Carolina, or to make it dependent upon the arbitrary of any candidate. I therefore desire that the farmers of the State know that, so far as the cotton acreage is concerned, we have no candidate, and further we condemn Governor Blease's effort to inject politics into this matter and to force the farmers to vote for his particular candidate by making the calling of the legislature dependent upon the whims of Blease.

(Signed) Wade Stackhouse, President Southern Cotton Division.

EVERYBODY INVITED TO VISIT THE SQUARE

THIS AFTERNOON

Photographer Has Arrived in City and Begins Today Preparing Pictures for Panama Exhibit

Ever see yourself in a moving picture? Then, this afternoon will be the one big chance of a lifetime because at 2 o'clock this afternoon W. J. Kraft of New York will begin turning the crank of his moving picture machine, making a film of the public square and everybody on the square at the time will be included in the picture and will be seen in every town in South Carolina and over at the Panama exposition, where the picture is to be shown. Mr. Kraft said yesterday that he would start this afternoon promptly at 2 o'clock and he hopes that there will be a goodly number of people on the square. It is necessary that there be a good crowd if Anderson is to show up in the picture as she should.

The moving picture man will start this morning at making pictures of the various industrial plants around the city, and he expects to have all these completed by noon. He will then be able to devote the remainder of the afternoon to making the pictures of the scenes around town.

Mr. Kraft said last night that he was very favorably impressed indeed with Anderson and from what he has seen of the city he believes that Anderson will show up to as much advantage as any other city in the state.

THEY REMEMBER THE OLD VILLAGE

Former Citizens Prefer Buying Goods From Anderson People Whenever Possible

Anderson people know that "chickens will come home to roost," but they do not know that most of the people now living away from Anderson, but once residents of this city, still prefer to do their buying here when it is possible. Of course, almost everyone in town knows that advertising in The Intelligencer is the best way for any Anderson merchant to get results, but for the benefit of those unacquainted with this fact, the following is given. S. M. Orr and H. E. Frierson, both of whom once lived in this city but are now engaged in business at Heardmont, Ga., under the firm name of The Frierson-Orr Company, wrote the following letter to "Farmer Smith" a day or two ago.

"We notice in The Anderson Intelligencer that you are handling incognito material for clovers. We expect to plant 2 1/2 bushels of crimson clover and would like to incognito it. On how short notice can we get any material from you? How soon will we have to use same after its receipt? How much will it cost, and how much will it take?"

Anderson people know that "chickens will come home to roost," but they do not know that most of the people now living away from Anderson, but once residents of this city, still prefer to do their buying here when it is possible.

MAY PURCHASE A FIRE PUMP

Report Says City Council May Act in Accordance With Such a Recommendation

It was reported in Anderson yesterday that there is some possibility of Anderson purchasing a new model combination pump and hose automobile truck as an addition to the fire department. Favor has it that the fire committee of the city council will make such a suggestion to the city fathers when they meet next Tuesday evening, but whether or not the city will buy the money right now and will be willing to invest will remain to be seen.

The more adequate protection is needed has been demonstrated this afternoon when a fire alarm was turned on in the automobile truck was out of it and it required between 5 and 10 minutes to get that vehicle started. Had the fire been of any consequence it would have been beyond control before the truck arrived.

It is pointed out that the purchase of a pump will materially lessen the insurance rates in this city and it is thought that the citizens and the voters will be in favor of the proposed plan.

AIKEN WILL WIN

That Was the Statement Made By Mr. Bradley

W. W. Bradley of Abbeville, private secretary to Congressman Wyatt Aiken, was in Anderson Thursday, and he says that Mr. Aiken will "pull a better vote than 1-3 did before" and that he will get a big majority.

Mr. Bradley states that Mr. Aiken will get better support than before and that he will win handsomely.

SOUTHERN MEN TO WORK FOR ROADS

This County Will Have Delegates At Next Meeting of Southern Appalachian Association

One of Anderson county's well known good roads enthusiasts yesterday received a letter from Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, president of the Southern Appalachian Good Roads Association, in which Dr. Pratt asked that delegates be appointed from this county and be urged to attend the meeting. A portion of Dr. Pratt's letter said:

"The Southern Appalachian Good Roads Association will hold its sixth annual convention at Bristol, Va., Tenn., October 6-8, and the Bristol board of trade will join the association in an effort to make this the greatest convention the association has ever held."

"I herewith extend you a cordial invitation to attend the convention as a delegate, and I will thank you to appoint about ten delegates to represent your town at the convention. I know you will see to it that you are interested in good roads and are able to attend, and I want to ask that you notify them of their appointment and urge them to attend. We will also notify them as soon as receiving their names and addresses from you."

"The association is not only doing a great work in encouraging the construction and maintenance of improved roads in the southern Appalachian territory, but is encouraging and promoting the construction of great interstate highways traversing all the states of the southeast and reaching other sections of the country."

"The convention will be educational as well as entertaining. Some of the best equipped men in the country will address the convention on the questions of location, construction and maintenance of roads, federal and state aid, and the progress of the road movement will be reported from all sections of the southeast. Literature and program giving further information will be sent at delegates."

"We fully realize that the country without good roads is a dead one, and we want to help make every community in the south-east a live one. Will you not come and bring a few other live representatives to the convention? Ladies are cordially invited and can be appointed as delegates."

HALF MILLION BALES

Can Be Taken Care of in South Carolina Cotton Warehouses

Columbia, Sept. 3.—In 35 counties in the state, exclusive of cotton mills, 481,000 bales of cotton can be cared for in the warehouses at the present time, allowing 5,000 bales for Charleston. With special effort in Charleston it is thought that 600,000 bales can be cared for in the entire state.

These figures were given out today by Commissioner E. J. Watson, who has received reports from many of the county chairmen of the South Carolina division of the Southern cotton congress.

Mr. Bradley states that Mr. Aiken will get better support than before and that he will win handsomely.

IF BACK HURTS USE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat If Kidneys Feel Like Lead or Bladder Feels Like a Stone

Most folks forget that the kidney like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then be fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys, and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless, inexpensive, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding various complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.
